REGULATIONS TO PREVENT THE SPREAD OF SCABIE (It is a scab) IN CATTLE

U. S. DEPARTMENT AGRICULTURE
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY.
Washington, D. C. March 18.
To Managers and Agents of Railroads and Transportation Companies of the United States, Stockmen, and others;

In furtherance of the regulations for the suppression and extinction of contagious and infectious diseases among domestic animals in the United States, dated March 10, 1903 (B. A. L. Order No. 103), notice is hereby given that a contagious disease known as scabies, or mange, exists among cattle in the United States, and in order to prevent the dissemination of this disease and to aid in its eradication the following regulations are established and observance thereof required;

1. It is required of every one intending to ship or to trail cattle to ascertain that the cattle are not affected with scabies and have not been exposed to the contagion thereof before offering them for transportation or before crossing State or Territorial boundaries. Transportation companies are required to provide cleaned and disinfected cars or other vehicles for the reception of cattle, and to refuse for shipment cattle whose freedom from disease and from exposure to contagion is in doubt. Cattle that are not affected with scabies and that have not been exposed to the contagion may be shipped or trailed without restriction, except as may be provided by other regulations of this department or such as may be lawfully imposed by the authorities of the State or Territory to which destined, or unless they are in a locality where inspection and certification are required by this Department before their removal therefrom.

2. Cattle that are affected with scabies, or that have been exposed to the contagion of scabies, either through contact with infected herds or infected premises, pens, or cars, shall not be shipped or driven from one State or Territory or District of Columbia into another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or into public stockyards or feeding stations, until they have been dipped in a mixture approved by this Department except as provided in Rule 4.

3. Cattle that are affected with the disease may be shipped for immediate slaughter after one dipping, but if they are intended for feeding or stocking purpose they shall be held for a second dipping ten to twelve days after the first one. All of the cattle in a certain herd or shipment in which the disease is present shall be considered as affected with the disease.

4. Cattle that are not affected with the disease, but have been exposed to the contagion, may be shipped for feeding or stocking purpose after one dipping, but may be shipped for immediate slaughter without dipping.

5. When affected cattle are shipped for slaughter after one dipping, and when exposed cattle are shipped for slaughter without dipping, the cars conveying them shall be marked on each side with a card bearing in plainly visible letters the words "Scabby Cattle," or "Exposed Cattle," as the cars may be; and each of the waybills, conductor's manifests, and bills of lading of such shipments by cars or boats shall have a similar statement plainly written or stamped upon its face. Said cars shall be furnished and affixed by the railroad company and shall not be removed until the cars have been cleaned and disinfected.

6. The dip now approved is the lime and sulphur dip, made to the proportion of 8 pounds of unslaked lime and 24 pounds of flowers of sulphur to 100 gallons of water. Weigh both lime and sulphur Place the unslaked lime in a mortar box or some suitable vessel and add enough water to slake the lime and form a lime paste or lime putty. Sift into this lime paste the flowers of sulphur and stir the mixture well. To make 100 gallons of dip, place the sulphur and lime paste in a kettle or boiler with about 30 gallons of boiling water and boil the mixture for two hours at least, stirring the liquid and sediment; add water when necessary to maintain the quantity. Pour the mixture and sediment into a large tub or barrel placed near the dipping vat and provided with a bung hole about 4 inches from the bottom, and allow it ample time (from two to three hours, if necessary) to settle. The use of some kind of a settling tank provided with a bung hole is an absolute necessity, unless the boiler is so arranged that it may be used for both boiling and settling. When fully settled, draw off the clear liquid into the dipping vat and add enough warm water to make 100 gallons. A double precaution against allowing the sediment to enter the vat is to strain the liquid through ordinary bagging as it is drawn from the barrel or settling tank. The same directions apply to larger quantities of dip proportionate amount of ingredients being used.
